Statement

CellularONE of East Texas is a provider of Commercial Mobile Radio Service ("CMRS") and does not offer services to its customers in categories other than CMRS. CellularONE of East Texas currently uses customer proprietary network information ("CPNI") only for the purpose of providing or marketing service offerings within the same category of service (i.e., CMRS) to which its customers already subscribe. CellularONE of East Texas does not currently share CPNI with affiliates or with third parties, other than pursuant to requests by duly-authorized law enforcement officials. Consequently, CellularONE of East Texas is not required to and does not maintain either an "opt-in" or "opt-out" system with respect to CPNI. In the event that CellularONE of East Texas were to change the ways in which it uses CPNI, any such change would be reviewed and approved by the company's CEO, who is familiar with the FCC's rules governing the use of CPNI and who is the certifying officer for CPNI purposes.

CellularONE of East Texas has established procedures to maintain the security of CPNI of its customers. For example, CellularONE of East Texas maintains all CPNI on a secure server, and CPNI is accessible only to select, specially-trained employees who are assigned individual IDs and passwords for this server that are separate from their IDs and passwords for the company's network. CellularONE of East Texas representatives will discuss customer non-call detail account information only after a caller has presented unique identifying information establishing that the requesting party is, in fact, the subscriber whose account information is requested. CellularONE of East Texas provides call detail records only to law enforcement officials who present a valid subpoena or to customers who establish their identity as described above. In the case of a customer who requests copies of his or her calling records, CellularONE of East Texas provides such records in hard-copy format only, and only by mail to the address on file for such customer. CellularONE of East Texas trains all employees on the importance of confidentiality of customer information, and regularly audits employees' activities on the company's network to ensure that employees act in accordance with company policies, including policies relating to the security and confidentiality of CPNI.
